

Enhancing lives by promoting safe and efficient use of energy

For more than 50 years, that powerful mission has brought together numerous diverse interests who work together on these issues of mutual importance. EEC collaborates with utility companies, electric cooperatives, municipal utilities, university educators and many others who share the mission to educate consumers and serve the energy industry.

The Energy Education Council's strong commitment to energy awareness ranges from youth education to residential and business consumers and the energy industry that serves them.

Members work collaboratively on the vital issues of energy efficiency, renewable energies and safety through diverse teams such as the Safe Electricity Advisory Board, Energy Efficiency Task Force, 4-H Youth Education Committee and EEC Board of Directors.

Associate and Affiliate Membership provides non-utility businesses, educational institutions and individuals who share our mission the opportunity to network and be part of our diverse and dynamic organization.
